Each sample imprint shown is displayed in the exact styles, line weight and point size of type that will be used. We do not use bold face type for addresses, etc., with some of the fancy display faces, because the bolder type on the secondary information will overpower the appearance of some of the thinner lines in certain display fonts. The line for the pastor's name and the line for the address may be in either order, but the boldness of each line will be that shown in the samples. The border around each illustration represents the imprint space on the bottom of each bulletin. The larger display fonts for the church name count as two lines, and five lines is the maximum allowed for the imprint.
